

☞ Sales at dwelling houses attended to promptly, and on reasonable terms.
☞ Consignments solicited and cash advances made to any amount.

AUCTION SALES
BY THOS. ANDERSON & CO.
Main st., bet. Fifth and Sixth, Louisville, Ky.

THE attention of dealers is respectfully invited to our regular Auction Sales on every TUESDAY and THURSDAY during the fall, commencing on each day at 10 o'clock A. M., when we will sell a general assortment of DRY GOODS, BOOTS, SHOES, BROGANS, &c. See our special advertisement for each day's sale.

Terms cash. THOS. ANDERSON & CO.

AUCTION SALES BY J. R. HOLST,
Third street, between Market and Main,
LOUISVILLE, KY.
J. R. HOLST has regular auction sales of Dry Goods,
Boots, Shoes, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Hardware,
Cutlery, Jewelry, and a variety of other articles too numerous to mention.
Sales commencing every evening at 7 o'clock.
Consignments of goods respectfully solicited.
REGULAR AUCTION SALES,

WE have regular sales at auction on WEDNES-DAYS and SATURDAYS, of Household and Kitchen Furniture, Groceries, &c., commencing at 9 o'clock, and continuing till 4 o'clock. Goods are thankfully received, and a prompt account rendered of sales. We have been in existence five months, and are pleased to thank our friends for their favorable patronage.

We intend to out-door sales of Household Furniture, on SATURDAY, the 10th inst. at 10 o'clock.
We have the consolation of knowing that we have giving general satisfaction to those who have patronized us, and we are confident that we shall continue to do so.

Our house is 66 Third street, opposite Apollo Rooms and third door south of the Pearl Street House.
decidedly QUONDAM G. GREEN, Auctioneer.

SPECIAL AUCTION NOTICE.

BY M. G. HARRIS & CO., Auctioneers.

BUYERS and sellers of Merchandise will please take notice that our regular sales of Fancy and Staple Dry Goods, Hats and Caps, Outfitt-

Every WEDNESDAY MORNING, at 10 o'clock, at Auction Rooms,
Groceries, Liquors, Nails, Glassware, &c., Every FRIDAY MORNING, at 10 o'clock. And every Saturday and Sunday from Furniture
 Every THURSDAY MORNING, at 10 o'clock.
 We have fitted up the large warehouse on Wall street, adjoining our counting-room, for the sale of all kinds of new and second-hand goods.
 Our Mr. Spencer will devote his time exclusively to this business, and all consignments will receive prompt attention.
 We have no connection with any other auction house in this city.
 Sales of Furniture at dwelling houses attended to
 with the same care, fair and reasonable terms.
 Consignments of Goods and Merchandise made at all times.

no 10 if S. G. HENRY & CO., Auctioneers.
REGULAR AUCTION SALES,
 BY DANIEL HEATON,
Market street, between Second and Third,
At 9 o'clock, A. M.
 On THURSDAY, the 15th of MAY, 1856, will be sold at auction, in general assortment of Household and Kitchen Furniture, Groceries, and Dry Goods, and all articles consigned for sale on commission; and will also be attempted to sell
 Also, sales of Real Estate, and Furniture at dwellings.
 REFERENCES:
 Dr. A. Baldrige, Louisville. R. F. Levering, Cincinnati.
 Wm. W. Hagedorn, do.

J. M. LINCOLN'S
WHOLESALE & RETAIL FURNITURE
WAREHOUSE
 76 Fourth st., between Main and Market,
 LOUISVILLE, Ky.
 Constantly on hand a large assortment of all kinds of Furniture, embracing in part—
 Dining Tables Bedsteads, Chairs,
 Bureaus, Breakfast do Lounges, Mattresses,
 Wardrobes, Center do Cribs, Light stands
 Sells, Card do Saws, Wash do
 Divans, &c. noll dly

W. M. KATE.
BELL AND BRASS FOUNDER.
Water Street, between First and Second,
Louisville, Ky.,
IS prepared to make BELLS for Churches, Steamboats, Taverns, &c., of all sizes and of superior tone, of which he keeps an assortment on hand.
ALSO, Hose and Salt Screws, Oil Globes, Cylinder, Gauge, and Stop Cocks, of every size;

ings, of every description.
CASH paid for old Copper and Brass.
 0031dit

NEW MILLINERY GOODS.
 FALL AND WINTER FASHIONS.

MRS. E. D. NICHOLAS
 will open her Fall and Winter
 Fashions on Monday next,
 the 1st inst., on which occasion a variety of fine DRESS
 BONNETS, such as Silk, Sat-tin, and Straws, will be ready for inspection. These, to-

of Ribbons, Flowers, Feathers, and other Fancy Goods will be disposed of on the most reasonable terms.
The attention of her customers and ladies generally is respectfully solicited.

PRINTS, &c.—

- 20 cases (all) Prints;
- 2 do 2 1/2 and 3 1/2 size Prints;
- 2 do 4 1/2 oil red Chaints;
- 20 do 3 1/2 to 12 1/2 bleached Cottons;
- 4 do bleached Drilings;
- 3 do French plaid Gingham;
- 2 do Irish Linen;

- 6 do bleached and brown Cotton Flannel;
- 2 do black and colored Cloths;
- 2 do do fancy Cassimeres;
- 8 do do do Satinet;
- 2 do fancy Tweed Cassimeres;
- 2 do Apron and Shirting Check;
- 2 brown Table Cloths;
- 20 bales do Cotton;
- 6 do heavy Osnaburg;
- 6 do brown Drilling;
- 6 do red, white, and yellow Flannel;
- 15 do 3-4 and 4-4 Ticking;

Blue and green Braid; Swiss, Victoria, Cambric, and Jacquett Muffin; Silk Plain and Polype; black Silks; and various Red, Green, and Blue Ribbons.

Mariner's Shirting; Canvas; Cambric; Silk, Satin, and Woolen Vesting; Bags and Bagging; Ribbons; Silk and Cotton Handkerchiefs and Ctrags; Linen Handkerchiefs; Hosiery, Gloves, Suspenders, Threads, Buttons,
&c., just received and for sale cheap.
T. & E. SLEVIN,
2d door below Third.

WATCHES, CLOCK JEWELRY, AND SILVER PLATE.

himself with A. C. BROWN, for the purpose of doing a wholesale and retail business in all styles and sizes of ROUPE & BROWN, begs leave to call the attention of the citizens of Louisville and the public in general, that they are now receiving and offering the largest and best selected stock of Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, and Silver Plate Ware, and Tools and Materials, ever offered for sale, and at prices not to be met west of the mountains. Also, B.

38 Cash prices.
 oc27

ROOTH & BROWN,
 No. 83 Fourth street.

MISS SINGER,
DRESS AND CLOAK MAKER,
 THIRD STREET, BETWEEN JEFFERSON AND GREEN,
 LOUISVILLE, KY.
 dec2 d1m

C. SIMON.

M in street, third door east of Twelfth,
LOUISVILLE, KY.,
Machinist and Manufacturer of
SMALL STEAM ENGINES,
SUITABLE for pumping, printing, milling, or grinding; in short, for all purposes where three or four-horse power is needed. Owing to the simplicity of construction, this pattern of Engine can be afforded at prices greatly below the usual rates. Call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.
The subscriber is also manufacturing an improved tin and sheet iron workers, and attends to all kinds of jobbing in his line of business. oc14 dtf

Dobyns' Daggerrean Galleries.

NO. 489 Main street, over Kitts's Jewelry Store, Lou isville, Ky.
No. 1, Fowikes' Row, Memphis, Tenn.
No. 28 Camp street, New Orleans, La.
Corner Camp and Canal streets, (Maguire's old cor ner,) New Orleans, La.

By calling at either of the above establishments you can procure such Pictures as must please. We respectfully solicit a call. [se6 dir] DOBYNS & CO.

VACCINE DEPOT.
(CORNER TENTH AND MARKET STREETS.)

PHYSICIANS' Receipts and Family Medicines compounded at all hours, with strict care and dispatch. Medicines pure, and charges reasonable.

DRS. BETTISON or BOYD will attend in person to all calls. none

1998

REALLY! REALLY!

There will be a Democratic Meeting at the Court House on SATURDAY NIGHT, for the purpose of ascertaining who will be able to attend, as delegates, to the Convention at Frankfort, on the 8th of January, and such other business as may be brought before it. Let there be a full attendance from all parts of the city. dec25 49

River News—Navigation on the Mississippi and Missouri.

The Mississippi above the rapids, it is thought, will remain closed until March, and the chances are in favor of the Illinois staying closed at least for two or three weeks longer. The navigation of the Missouri is not a matter of so much importance during the winter season, as shippers along that river generally make it a point to close up their business before the cold weather sets in, and in anticipation of the present state of things, nearly every shipment of importance had come forward several weeks before ice made its appearance. If it should, therefore, continue closed the remainder of the winter, the commerce of St. Louis would be very little affected.

The average depth of the channel from St. Louis to Cairo does not exceed 5 1/2 and 6 feet. The rapid decline of the water has left large embankments of ice lining each shore, and, when not properly moored, boats and barges have been left high and dry.

The Alex. Scott and Iowa are reported lying at Michael Landing, two miles above St. Genevieve, under a bluff, in deep water and safe. The Scott was drawing 7 1/2 feet water.

The Connecticut is bound at Columbus, on the Illinois river. The Missouri is at Griggsville, heavily laden, bound for St. Louis. The Hudson is at Braidstown, bound up. The Dan Hillman is near Pekin, and designs taking in a cargo of ice.

The Kansas is up the Missouri, ice-bound, at the mouth of the Osage. The Payaway is up the Gasconade, where she has been aground since May last. The Salado lies at Vide Pauche, and the Grand Turk three miles below the Barracks. Between St. Louis and the upper Mississippi are the Glencoe at the head of the lower rapids, the Monongahela four miles above Griggsville, bound up, and the Wyoming, bound down, at Choteau's Island. The Mississippi is reported to be gorged at Cape Girardeau.

The following steamers were in port at St. Louis on the 23d—several laid up for the season, and others ice-bound: New England No. 2, Lucy Bertram, Kate Kearney, The Vernon, Altos, Elvira, Tempest, Whirlwind, Highland Mary No. 1, Financier, Highland Mary No. 2, Minnesota, R. H. Lee, Kingston, Oswego, Shelby, Ben West, El Paso, Jewess, Shenandoah, Kentucky, Pike No. 9, North River, Western World, Niagara, Time and Tide, Island, Avalanche, Sonora, J. M. Clevidence, Planter, Caleb Cope, Ne Plus Ultra, Lemartine, Dr. Franklin No. 2, Yankee, Wisconsin, Dubuque, Danube, Lewis F. Lion, St. Croix—forty-one in all. The St. Ange and one or two others are on ways repairing.

The editor of the Republic, at Washington, the special organ of the administration, thus makes himself happy over what he considers grave dissensions in the democratic party:

DEMOCRATIC HARMONY.—We perceive, with natural pain, that the friends of Mr. Buchanan and Mr. Cass are not of the best possible terms. Pennsylvania, and whilst they are at daggers drawing, Mr. Van Buren and his friends are running away with the substance and essence of the party organization for General Butler. The Pittsburgh Post, moreover, is giving a hit or two at Judge Douglas, whom it thinks cannot show the services to the country and the democratic party that will place him on a footing with Mr. Buchanan. All these gentlemen may as well stand aside. Martin Van Buren and F. B. Blair, with the aid of the Globe and the Evening Post, have captured the democratic party, and are bound to have everything their own way. Albany has at length fairly outwitted Richmond. The author of the "Shooken resolutions," and the elite of the sweet-house democracy, are under the ban. The organ of the Van Buren in the city of New York, that old "federal viper, the Evening Post," (as Mr. Ritchie used to style it,) has denounced Gen. Barry as a seceder, and we expect the city will be roused forthwith, as in old Jackson times, of "shoot the seceders."

The Mayville Eagle says:

Let them, (the whigs of the legislature) in calm and candid consultation, select a candidate and elect him at a single ballot in the Legislature, without disturbing the harmony of the party or the quiet of the public. Wisdom and patriotism dictate this course.

Certainly, that's the way for 'em to do—canvass and whip in private, and not break the peace of this commonwealth and all the commands by their unseemly behavior before everybody.

DROWNED.—We learn that a few days since, two men, one named John Y. Sellev, a clothier of Cincinnati, the other unknown, were both drowned about two miles above Lawrenceburg, in rashly attempting to cross the river on the floating ice. Several persons on the Indiana side witnessed the attempt, and saw the men, when near the middle of the stream, jump upon a large field of ice, and instantly break through and disappear.

COVINGTON AND LEXINGTON RAILROAD.—Mr. A. L. Greer, Agent of the Covington and Lexington Railroad Company, has contracted for iron for 53 miles of this road. It was purchased at the lowest cash prices, to be paid for in the bonds of the company at par. It is to be delivered immediately after the opening of navigation next spring. Mr. Greer at the same time disposed of the remainder of the first issue of Covington bonds on very favorable terms. It is the confident expectation of the directors that the road will be opened to the public from Covington to Palmouth during next year.

STAMPS.—Some thirty millions of post office stamps of all descriptions (at an average of three cents) have been sold by the Department in the past five months; while in all, stamps to the value of a quarter of a million of dollars have been forwarded by the Department to post masters to be sold at the same time.

STONG ANTI-IMPROVEMENT MAN.—The following double entendre was perpetrated at a dinner a few days since at Queenstown, C. W.:—"Dam your canals, blast your furnaces, sink your coal pits, down with your railroads, away with your electric telegraphs, and over with your suspension bridges."

MURDER.—On Sunday morning last, two men who were cutting ice in the Ohio river, near Columbus, about four miles below Cincinnati, got into a dispute, which resulted in the death of one of the parties, named J. T. Whitaker. He was struck over the head by his opponent with a billet of wood, and killed almost instantly. The name of the homicide is Crowder.

Remember the democratic meeting at the court-house to-night.

Kossuth has been invited to visit Columbus, Ohio.

Water was sold at Madison, a few days since, at fifty cents per barrel.

The snailpost is prevailing to some extent in Cincinnati.

There are two hundred and seventy-five soldiers in Newport barracks.

The cars between Dunkirk and Erie were to have commenced running on Monday last.

Twenty-four bills of the Bank of Tennessee have lately made their appearance.

The furniture car drivers struck for 75 cents per load yesterday.

The postoffice in Brooklyn, Ky., was destroyed by fire on Saturday night last.

There were no cases before his Honor, Judge Joyce, yesterday morning.

The thermometer at noon yesterday stood at freezing point.

The prisoners convicted at the last term of the Criminal Court will be taken to Frankfort this morning in the cars.

There are over two hundred bags of mail matter in the Cincinnati post-office, for Louisville.

The concert of Mlle Parodi, on Wednesday evening, for the benefit of the poor, realized the sum of $186.

Two men got into a difficulty on Lafayette street, on Wednesday night, in which one of them, named Jackson, was shot.

A little boy had one of his eyes put out by a firecracker, on Madison street, on Thursday evening.

The new steamer Maj. A. Harris, just finished at Cincinnati, draws only ten inches water with all her machinery on board.

Wolves were heard howling in the neighborhood of Alexandria, Ky., on Sunday night last.

A large number of wagons crossed the Missouri river at St. Charles, Mo., on Monday last.

It is a remarkable fact that Mr. Webster, Mr. Calhoun, Mr. Benton, and Mr. Van Buren were each born in the same year—1772.

BLUE LICK SPRINGS.—This splendid watering place is soon to be sold at public sale, by order of the Nicholas county circuit court.

Lieut. Colonel Daniel Randall, Deputy Paymaster General, U. S. A., died in Washington city on the 17th inst.

We learn that a young man named Owens was accidentally shot, in the upper part of the city, on Thursday night. The ball passed through his thigh and lodged in his hand.

The recent cold weather and gale on Lake Erie have been severe on the sailing craft, and several have gone ashore, and many others frozen in.

A very large amount of merchandise, &c., destined for the South and West, has accumulated at Cincinnati. The steamboats will have a fine time when the river opens.

The party of young men who started from Cincinnati for Louisville, a few days since, on skates, have not yet arrived. We fear they encountered an air hole.

The thieves have been making themselves very busy of late. Several attempts were made to break into houses on Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Notwithstanding the interruption of navigation, travelers may reach St. Louis from Cincinnati in sixty hours, by way of the Hamilton railroad connection with the stage routes.

Two passenger cars, built in Columbus, Ohio, for the Terre Haute railroad, were lost one day last week, a few miles above Madison. The flatboats containing them, were cut to pieces and sunk by the ice.

Jim, the slave of Mr. Gilliland, of Shelby county, who was convicted at the last term of the criminal court, and sentenced to be hung, has been pardoned by Gov. Powell. He was sold for the sum of $900.

CLERKS, REGISTERERS, AND ATTORNEYS.—At the recent election in the State of Maryland, there were twelve democratic and twelve whig registers; and fifteen democratic and seven whig State's Attorneys, elected.

FIKE.—A large brick house in East Mayville, Ky., stored with hemp, was destroyed by fire on Saturday night last, together with all the contents. The loss falls on Crook & Co., of Liverpool, and amounts to $3,000.

America beats the world for catarrhs. A perpendicular water fall has been discovered on the Sonoma river, in Oregon, some distance from where it empties into Puget's sound, of 360 feet.

It is stated that from twenty-five to thirty persons, including four of the hands, died on the steamer Grand Turk, on her recent trip from New Orleans to St. Louis. She brought up one hundred and fifty emigrants.

The London correspondent of the Boston Post, states that the London Times has been paid £10,000 by the Rothschilds and Baring, for the purpose of destroying the popularity of Kossuth in England.

The Burlington (Iowa) Telegraph says that the Indians on the Upper Des Moines, in that State, have attacked and robbed the settlers on Roger river, and taken with them one of the settlers and his wife.

DROWNED.—A German named Rodney Leist, while crossing the Ohio at Cincinnati, on Sunday, in company with his sister, fell in, and was swept by the current beneath the ice and drowned.

PAINFUL.—A young lady of Cincinnati, step-daughter of a well known merchant tailor, has just received the painful information that a relative in England has taken leave of all sublunary things, and left her a little legacy of $80,000.

Sleighs are now used as conveyances between Cincinnati and the cities on the opposite side of the river. They run with perfect safety, and convey all sorts of produce and merchandise, down to cordwood.

GRAIN IN STORE AT THE LAKE.—The Lafayette Journal learns by a letter from a commercial house in Toledo that there is in store in that port about 125,000 bushels of wheat, and 50,000 bushels of corn. At Sandusky and Cleveland there is in store about 300,000 bushels of wheat. The writer says that they can't starve down that way if the Hoosiers do not sell their crop.

Kossuth on Ireland.—At the great corporation banquet, which was given to Kossuth, in New York, last week, Mr. W. E. Robinson complained that in all the speeches made during the evening, no allusion had been made to Ireland or Irishmen. He reminded Kossuth of the numerical strength of the people in this country, and closed with some reference to the Irish exiles in Van Dieman's Land.

Gov. Kossuth rose and thanked the gentleman for the personal compliments he had paid him. But as he was pleased to remark that he (Kossuth) had no reference to explain in his speech, he begged leave to explain why he had omitted to do so. (Applause.) At the very first step he had taken upon the American soil, he had declared that, claiming as he did for his own country, the sovereign right of every nation to dispose of its domestic concerns, while he stood in the United States that principle he meant to respect. Consequently he would not address himself to the people of any particular nation, here, or to any particular extraction of blood. (Great applause.) He would address himself to the people of the United States. (More applause.) And he was convinced that, when he addressed the people of the United States, he was addressing every man who, proud of his own freedom, feels sympathy for those who are oppressed. He believed that there was work in the United States which embraces every man who has the honor to be an American citizen. (Cheers.) The United States! In these words were comprised all which concerned his mission here. (Applause.) He knew no Anglo-Saxon, no Irishman, no German, as such, on this soil. But he knew the people of the United States, and would address them all for their generous support on behalf of his own unprotected Hungary. (Great applause.)

Michael Doherty, in a letter over two solid columns long, in the Tribune, and John P. Dillon and Richard O'Gorman, Jr., in brief notes, in the same paper, express strong sympathy for Kossuth and his cause, and promise pecuniary support to the extent of their abilities to contribute.

The Texas papers all speak of the immense tide of emigration that is flowing into that State. The emigrants are mostly from Tennessee, Mississippi, Georgia, and Alabama. Lands on the territory, where most the emigrants are going, have advanced from $3 and $4 to $8 and $10.

The Fakir of Siva gave another performance at the theatre, last night, which was well attended. The price of admission has been reduced to 50 cents in the parquette and dress circle, and 25 cents to all other parts of the house.

Mr. John Felker, of the St. Charles Hotel, Market street, will please accept our thanks for the excellent "egg-nogg" sent us last evening.

POSTPONED.—The concert of Mlle Parodi, which was advertised to take place last night, was postponed in consequence of the indisposition of Mlle P.

INTERESTING TO STEAMBOATMEN.—An action to recover damages for the breach of a contract in the tenure of the bar the steamboat World by Capt. Norton to the plaintiff, Mr. Bernard, was heard yesterday, in the Common Pleas Court. The plaintiff paid $800 as a retainer under the contract for year commencing in November, 1848, and received an assurance as he claimed, that the boat would run ten months in the year. She laid up, however, in the middle of May, and did not run again until October, the captain giving the bar to another party. The plaintiff recovered the $800, and no proof existed to show whether they were paid for or not, further than the fact that the captain allowed the plaintiff to remove them. The Court remarked that they did not suppose a steamboat was to run any specified time on the strength of an agreement between the captain and bar-keeper. Other considerations might influence the captain in exercising a sound discretion in the running of the boat; and if he were not guilty of fraud in the representation that the boat would run ten months, the plaintiff could not recover because there was not an entire compliance with the contract in that respect. Taking into consideration, however, his expulsion from the bar before the term had expired, the Court supposed he was entitled to some damages, which they fixed at $200. Mr. Champlin appeared for plaintiff, and Mr. Mitchell for defence. —Cin. Com., 23d.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.—At a large and respectable meeting of the democracy of Muhlenburg county, held at the court-house in Greenville, on the 19th of December, 1851, R. C. Frazer was called to the chair, and John R. Lambuth appointed secretary.

The object of the meeting having been explained by the chairman and F. B. Hancock, Esq., the following resolutions were offered by the latter gentleman and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we cordially approve of the policy of holding a democratic convention in the city of Frankfort on the 8th of January next.

Resolved, That it is the opinion of this meeting, that all that is necessary to insure the triumphant success of democratic principles in Kentucky, is the thorough organization of the democratic party.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Resolved, That we deem it inexpedient to point out any particular individual as our choice for the Presidency in 1852.—That with Douglas, Buchanan, Butler, Cass, Houston, Dallas, and Marcy, with a host of other illustrious statesmen, we have no quarrel, and we have no fear of the result of the next contest for the Presidency.

Kossuth and the New York Soldierly.

The details of the reception given by the volunteer soldiery of New York to Kossuth, at Castle Garden, on Tuesday evening of last week, occupies a large space in the New York papers of Wednesday morning. The whole of the regiments composing the first division of the New York State militia, numbering five thousand men, were assembled within the garden, and on the introduction of Kossuth, the whole body rose and cheered him with frantic enthusiasm. The several regiments were then presented to him, each rising in its turn, and the men and officers uncovering. Subsequently, Kossuth addressed them at considerable length, and was frequently interrupted by applause as he proceeded. At the close of his address, he spoke as follows:

I declare, that whatever financial aid I should be so happy as to obtain from the generosity of the people of the United States, I will never employ it in a manner which may be contrary to your laws, because I highly respect, and am firmly determined, not to evade your laws. It is from this motive that I do not solicit the formation of an armed expedition, but perhaps the generous sympathy of your people would afford some opportunity even for this, too, when the time comes for us to fight the battle of freedom over Europe. I confidently hope that of their own free will, without my interference, they will be glad to share the glory of that battle of freedom for humanity. I desire this of course, only so far as the laws of your country will permit, and trust that they will help the humble wish which I shall never be enabled yet to see again my fatherland independent and free. (Applause.) I swear here before you (raising the sword to heaven) that this American sword in my hand shall be always faithful to the cause of freedom, and that it shall be ever foremost in the battle, and that it shall never be polluted by ambition or cowardice.

The New York Herald says:

The scene that followed this solemn oath-bath is described. It was truly sublime. The whole body of the military rose as one man, and with one will about made Castle Garden ring, while for several minutes they waved their hats with the utmost excitement and enthusiasm, and repeated their cheers again and again. When the tumult of applause subsided, Kossuth proceeded.

First Division of New York State Militia, I engage you to become the controlling power of this solemn oath, and I shall now conclude by thanking you once more for your generous sympathy.

The applause was again renewed and continued for several minutes.

Kossuth.—The Washington papers state that William Hunter, Esq., chief clerk in the Department of State, was dispatched to New York on Tuesday, bearing to Louis Kossuth the resolution of Congress, giving to him, in behalf of the people of the United States, a cordial welcome to the Capital of the country.

In the United States Senate, on Tuesday, the resolution of Mr. Shields, of Illinois, was amended so as to read thus:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the chair to wait upon Louis Kossuth, on his arrival at the capital, and introduce him to the Senate.

Mr. Mason admitted that if he had been present he would have voted for the welcome to Kossuth, but did not desire to go beyond this, lest it might be endorsing a disposition to relax the policy of non-interference, as laid down by the fathers of the republic.

The question came up on the adoption of the resolution, and it was passed by the following vote:

Yeas—Messrs. Atchison, Bradbury, Brodhead, Cass, Chase, Clarke, Davis, Dodge of Wisconsin, Dodge of Iowa, Douglas, Felch, Fish, Fox, of Vermont, Fremont, Fremont, Geyer, Gwin, Hamilton, Houston, James, Jones of Iowa, Miller, Norton, Seward, Shields, Smith, Stockton, Sumner, Wade, Walker and Whitecomb—30.

Nays—Messrs. Bayard, Borland, Butler, Clements, Dawson, Hunt, Jones of Tennessee, King, Mason, Morton, Pratt, Sebastian, Spruance, Underwood and Upham—15.

The Washington Southern Press, speaking of the adoption of the above resolution, says:

Such a proceeding is an invitation to Kossuth to make an exposition of his views on the spot, which no doubt he now will do.

The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia North American says that it is intended to appoint a committee of each house to receive and introduce Kossuth on his visit to the capital, and if he desires to make an address, no opposition will be offered. It is contemplated to give him a dinner—the expenses to be defrayed out of the tickets disposed of.

MADAME KOSUTH'S APPEARANCE.—Madame Kossuth is more like a Magyars, than her distinguished husband. She is rather smaller in stature than he is, in

